BINDING OF THE SCRUTINIUM SCRIPTURARUM (No. V)

Upper cover

A LIST OF BOOKS
PRINTED IN THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY
IN THE JOHN CARTER BROWN LIBRARY
AND THE GENERAL LIBRARY OF
BROWN UNIVERSITY
PROVIDENCE RHODE ISLAND

With the Compliments of the Committee of Management of The John Carter Brown Library

OXFORD
PRINTED AT THE UNIVERSITY PRESS

1910

OXFORD: HORACE HART
PRINTER TO THE UNIVERSITY

THE present list of books belonging to the John Carter Brown Library or to the General Library of Brown University, which were printed during the fifteenth century, was prepared as a supplement to the Catalogue, compiled by Mr. A. W. Pollard of the British Museum, of the fifteenth-century books placed by General Rush C. Hawkins in the Annmary Brown Memorial at Providence, Rhode Island.

The 542 volumes in the Hawkins Collection illustrate the work of 'the first printers', the men who set up the printing press in communities all over Europe where none had existed before, during the half-century preceding the year 1501. Many of the more important of the books listed on the following pages were purchased at the suggestion of General Hawkins, as specimens of the work of these men in whom he was so keenly interested. As they are now housed within a few hundred feet of his Memorial to Mrs. Hawkins, it seemed desirable to provide students of the history of printing with the titles of all the early printed books which can be seen in the libraries at Providence.

The John Carter Brown Library is primarily a collection of books printed on or referring to the American hemisphere before the end of the eighteenth century. The larger number of the books in this list belong properly to a collection of Americana. Some of the others represent the earliest purchases of John Carter Brown and of his brother Nicholas Brown—the father of Annmary Brown Hawkins—secured during the second and third decades of the nineteenth century, before the founder of the Library conceived the possibility of bringing together a comprehensive collection of the original printed sources for American history.

Another copy.

450 × 294 mm. Rubricated, with initials coloured as usual. In old boards covered with a soft stamped leather, reinforced with vellum manuscript. The eagle in a lozenge is the only stamp decipherable. The original sewing, and probably binding. This copy contains a world map printed from a different block from that which occurs in other copies examined. It is described, with a brief statement of reasons for thinking it earlier than the usual map, by Henry N. Stevens, in 'Ptolemy's Geography a brief account of all the printed editions down to 1730' (London, 1908), pp. 25-31. [xiv^a]

* * The maps in this edition have explanatory text printed on the first page of the double sheet, on the inside of which the map is printed. These notes are surrounded by borders, for which two sets of blocks were used. Two, and in a few cases three, distinct type settings were used in printing these, and as the different forms seem to have been gathered up for binding quite indiscriminately, no two copies so far examined show any tendency towards uniformity.

The 32 maps offer at least 63 typographical varieties of notes. Of these, 50 are represented in the two copies described above, while 3 more occur in the copy in the Hawkins collection.

In addition to the seven editions of Ptolemy's Geography included in the present list the John Carter Brown Library contains thirty-nine editions printed after 1500.
